McCullough applies for aid

Parents demand action at North Bay School

By RICH ADAMS

Parents and teachers at North Bay Elementary in Bay St. Louis are complaining that demands for renovations for deteriorating conditions at the school are falling on deaf ears at the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School Board and its administrative offices.

North Bay Principal Billy Sills submitted a three-page list to the board of repairs and renovations to be done to the school during the summer break.

Top priority repairs were completed including installation of a new walk-in cooler, new windows for the cafeteria, renovations to heaters and repairs to water damaged restrooms.

According to Sills, about half of the requested work was completed during the summer.

Rotting door jams and leaky roofs and walls are very apparent in five temporary classroom trailers, which have been on the school grounds for nine years.

Sills said Superintendent J. D. McCullough and School Board Architect Fred Wagner were at the school last week to assess the condition of the trailers and suggest renovations.

The architect said the present trailers are beyond repair, and Sills stated new trailers or classrooms will have to be built to replace the present temporary classrooms.

McCullough said new trailers or classrooms are in the planning stage.

"New trailers or even new classrooms are a possibility," he said.

"We could build new classrooms if we went to the taxpayers with a bond issue to finance them," he continued.

In reference to other repairs, McCullough pointed out some work was already done.

A new walk-in cooler was installed to replace the old cooler, which caused water leaks in the cafeteria and ruined tiling.

New sliding windows installed at the cafeteria, replacing older, "push-out" style windows.

McCullough said heaters in the school, an object of many complaints from parents last winter, were rebuilt during the summer.

North Bay Parent-Teacher Organization President Lana Noonan said teachers sent notes to parents last winter telling them to dress children warmly because the heaters weren't functioning properly, sometimes not warming 30-degree classrooms until noon or later.

"At one time about 60 seven-year-olds were put into one classroom to keep them warm," Ms. Noonan said.

McCullough said the schools are applying to the Educational Finance Commission of the State Department of Education for funds to repair the deteriorating conditions at the school.

"We're very limited. We can only go so far with the $5-per-square-foot for school repairs that the EFC allows," he said.

McCullough is applying to the EFC for assistance, but he points out that applying for the funds does not necessarily mean the application will be approved.

He brought up the possibility of a bond issue, stating that no increase of millage for North Bay improvements or expansion have been put on taxpayers since the school opened in 1960.

Ms. Noonan said the PTO gets little cooperation from the school board.

"We were told by McCullough that in

Bay lass named first Miss Sond

Deborah Edwards, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Edwards, Bay St. Louis, was crowned the first Miss SOND at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum Thursday.

SOND (September-October-November-December) is a campaign sponsored by Gulf Coast businessmen to promote tourism to the Coast in winter months.

Ms. Edwards is a 1975 graduate of Bay Senior High and attended Pearl River Junior College. She is employed at Anthony's Men's Wear in Bay St. Louis.

Ms. Edwards' reign as Miss SOND will take her throughout the Coast to promote tourism during the winter months.

She received a $250 wardrobe from Gayfer's and a $100 cash award.

SOND was kicked off last Thursday with the arrival of television actor Leif Erickson in Biloxi as he sailed in to Biloxi Harbor in a viking ship replica, the 'Loki'.

A sand sculpture contest is planned as part of September's SOND activity.

October has been designated 'Monarch Butterfly Month' by SOND officials, November is 'Veteran's Month', and December has been named 'Yuletide and Religion' month.

Labor Day fatalities at new low

By EDGAR PEREZ

James Finch, Commissioner of Public Safety, commended the motoring public, law enforcement agencies, and members of the news media for their assistance in keeping the Labor Day weekend fatalities to a record-breaking low.

Finch said, "We regret the seven fatalities we had in our State, but this is far better than the 19 we had during our Labor Day observance in 1977. As a matter of fact, this is the lowest number of fatal accidents that has been recorded for this particular holiday period since 1964."

The Commissioner said, "We feel that through the conscientious efforts of law enforcement agencies and the news media, safety was foremost in the minds of motorists."

Through the cooperation of radio and television stations, and newspapers, we were able to share our safe driving messages with the public."

M.C. Pardue, Chief of the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol, joins me in expressing our appreciation to all those who took the time and did their part to save lives this Labor Day weekend. We ask for continued support in our efforts to reduce fatalities for the remainder of 1978."

Grace Rhodes honored at Bay Library event

By JOE PILET

About noon Thursday Grace Rhodes was sitting at her desk in the children's Room of the Hancock City-County Public Library.

There was a radiant look on her face and her eyes sparkled moistly, for on her desk was a plaque which reads: "In Recognition of Your Outstanding Service to The Hancock County Library System, 1970 - 78."

Ms. Rhodes had accepted that meaningful plaque the night before from Fran Trombley who chairs Hancock County Library System's Board of Trustees accepted it during a regular meeting of Friends of the Library and in the presence of her husband Willys W. Rhodes and three of their children.

There was resounding applause. Friends and members of the Library staff found lumps in their throats, and several were unashamedly wiping tears from their eyes.

Grace Rhodes was receiving a token of appreciation for loyal years of service - and by her own request, she was transferring from the City-County Library in Bay St. Louis to become Kili's librarian at the end of September.

That Grace is loved by the Library staff was evidenced through spontaneous applause.

Rural sewerage eyed

By LESLIE WILLIAMS

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors have asked for a meeting with Health Department Director Dr. Louis Jobe to seek an answer to residents' complaints that state health inspectors have been failing to respond to requests for inspection of their septic tanks.

Beat One Supervisor Bert Courge said even if the inspectors come, chances are that residents outside city limits still might not meet health department requirements because of "percolation tests."

The meeting is also being arranged to discuss health requirements relating to residences outside the city limits, he added.

Courge said approval of residential sewerage systems by the Health Department is important because the Federal Housing Authority demands an approval certificate before they will loan any money to home builders.

"The problem exists not only in Beat One, but in all the beats," explained Courge.

These regulations are hampering growth in the County, because people can't get federal funds to build, the supervisor lamented.

Collision on Hwy. 603 claims life

By LESLIE WILLIAMS

The death of James A. Hale, 57, of Diamondhead in three-car accident Wednesday on Highway 603 at Dummy Line Road brought to six the number of traffic victims on the roadway in the past four weeks.

Hale died instantly in the crash, the Hancock Sheriff's Department reported.

Hale's body was freed from his car by the Diamondhead Fire Department rescue unit.

Jessie Peters, 22, of Lumberton, one of the other two drivers involved, suffered cuts and abrasions on his face and arms, according to the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol (MHP).

William V. Duncan, 26, of Picayune, was reported not injured in the accident.

The Echo was unsuccessful in its attempts to obtain an official report from MHP on cause of the accident and citations, if any, issued.

Hale was executive vice president of Movie 'Star' Inc. in Poplarville, manufacturers of women's lingerie.

He was a member of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, Pearl River County Hospital Board of Directors, Rotary Club and the Kiwanis Club.

He also served as a colonel on the governor's staff and was a deputy sheriff in Pearl River County.

Prior to moving to Diamondhead two years ago, he had been a resident of Poplarville for some 21 years.

Hale was buried in the Gardens of Memory in Bay St. Louis following services in Poplarville.

Survivors include his wife, Gertrude Culbertson of Poplarville, two daughters, Dr. Penelope Hale of Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Bonnie Hale, Grant of Bay St. Louis, four brothers, Charles E. Hale and Everett Hale, both of California; Wilbur Hale and Ray Hale both of Missouri; two sisters, Mrs. Virginia Bethel and Mrs. Mable Rickard, both of Missouri; and grandchild, James Robert Grant of Bay St. Louis.

Funeral arrangements were handled by Edmond Fahey, Funeral Home in Bay St. Louis.

Post gives $1,200 to Jaws drive

By LESLIE WILLIAMS

Waveland American Legion Post No. 77 has donated $1,200 to the "Jaws of Life" campaign, and the Post Auxiliary has contributed an additional $200, according to Robert Boudin, Hancock County Civil Defense director.

Including the donations from the Post, we now have approximately $1,400 of the needed $13,800 to purchase three Jaws of Life for Waveland, Bay St. Louis and Diamondhead Fire Departments," Boudin reported.

The Legion units approved the campaign donations at a Wednesday meeting.

The campaign to secure Jaws of Life power rescue tools for local fire departments began after an Aug. 10 crash on Hwy. 603 which killed five persons, one of whom died while he remained trapped in a crushed vehicle for almost an hour.

Another Hwy. 603 traffic accident victim was trapped in his car again last week.

The Jaws of Life power rescue tool is a machine valued at $4,800 which, with its twin forged arms, can pull or lift six tons to free a trapped victim in seconds, said Boudin.

Diamondhead Fire Chief Ed Fields stated that Gulfport is the nearest location south of Hattiesburg with a Jaws of Life, with New Orleans being the next closest.

Rescue officials have warned that the threat to life is greatly multiplied when time lost in attempting to free accident victims from trapped vehicles.

"Anyone may make a donation to Jaws of Life account at any time," Boudin said.

Quilting taught at Bay Library

By JOE PILET

Betsy Nolan Tuesday greeted enthusiastic students who gathered at the City-County Public Library to learn from an experienced quilter the ancient art of quilt making. The group will be instructed in patchwork, applique, and cathedral window designs.

The history of quilting goes back for thousands of years. During the Middle Ages soldiers wore quilted coats under their armor. Both English and Dutch colonists brought quilts to America. American colonial women made quilts to cover beds, chair backs and fireplace benches.

Many interesting and beautiful quilt designs have been developed, some of which Mrs. Nolan showed at the beginning of the class period.

Patchwork quilts are made of many small pieces of fabric sewed together in colorful geometric designs. Cutting of the material calls for precision and accuracy and in some full sized quilts up to 100 pieces are needed.

Another attraction at the quilting class is a display of quilts planned, a quilting frame is to be set up and class members will experience the revival of a quilting party.

During Colonial days the "quilting bees" were afternoon affairs ending in the evening when their families joined them for supper and dancing.

Mrs. Nolan is a charter member of Santa Clara Valley Quilters Association and her free quilting course was filled to capacity by pre-registration. The young and not so young members of the class have a common bond in the joy of stitching.

FIRST ASSEMBLY GUESTS - The Camerons, missionary evangelist singers of Faith Missionary Outreach, Faith Acres, Peterhead, Scotland, are appearing today at the First Assembly of God in Waveland at 8:30 and 11 a.m. worship services. Opinion/Ellis Cuevas

Every year there is a big rush

We have observed every year for more than 20 now, the mad rush to clean the graves in Cedar Rest Cemetery right before All Saints Day.

Since the cemetery is adjacent to our office, it has been real easy for us to note the conditions of the cemetery throughout the years.

It would be a wonderful thing if there were an All Saints Day the first of each month rather than just once a year. Some graves aren't visited but once a year, a few days before All Saints Day, and of course there are some never visited.

The City of Bay St. Louis makes an effort to clean as much of the cemetery as it possibly can.

City officials say they would like to clean the whole thing including all the graves, but because of a lack of funds they do not have the man power available.

One thing that happens, and we have noticed this for several years, is that the city will haul away all the trash the day before All Saints. Of course they expect the place to look good the next morning, but are in for a surprise because the latecomers, who clean up graves at the last minute and even on All Saints morning.

We would like to suggest to those of you with family and friends buried in Cedar Rest and, as a matter of fact, any other cemetery not to wait until the last minute to do your All Saints cleaning.

There seems to be a lot of grass and weeds throughout Cedar Rest at this time and we hope the City and you get together and do a fine job. Remember, it takes them time to haul trash away.

One city resident, in talking about time it takes to get back and forth from the dump, described it as being halfway to Memphis.

Q: What can I do about door-to-door magazine salesmen? They come by my house all the time. I wouldn't mind buying some magazines from them, but how can I be sure I will receive my magazines?

A: Almost every Mississippian at one time or another has had a magazine salesperson come to his door. Sometimes these sales people tell you that they are working their way through college, trying to win a scholarship, or competing for a trip to Europe. They would not be taken in by any such sales pitch, for such pitches they are not allowed to use in their first-aid before you say "yes," before you sign any contract for magazines, make certain that you have protected yourself against making an agreement you might later regret. Here are some ways to do this:

1. When sales people come to the door, find out what they are selling before you let them in.

Don't be taken in by such inducements as: "I am taking a survey of neighborhood reading habits" or "the magazine is free; all you have to pay for is the cost of postage and handling." These are only ways of getting into your house.

If you don't want a magazine subscription, don't let the sales people into your house.

2. If you are interested in buying a subscription, first ask to see the person's credentials. Write down his name, the name of his company, his home address, and the company's address.

3. Don't be fooled by the pitch that the subscription will only cost you pennies a day. Just ten pennies a day is $36.50 a year, and if you buy a three-year subscription to magazines, "pennies a day" can total more than $100.

4. Don't be pressured into signing any contract on the spot. Always tell the sales person you will send the contract in the mail. Do this even though the sales person might try to discourage such a plan.

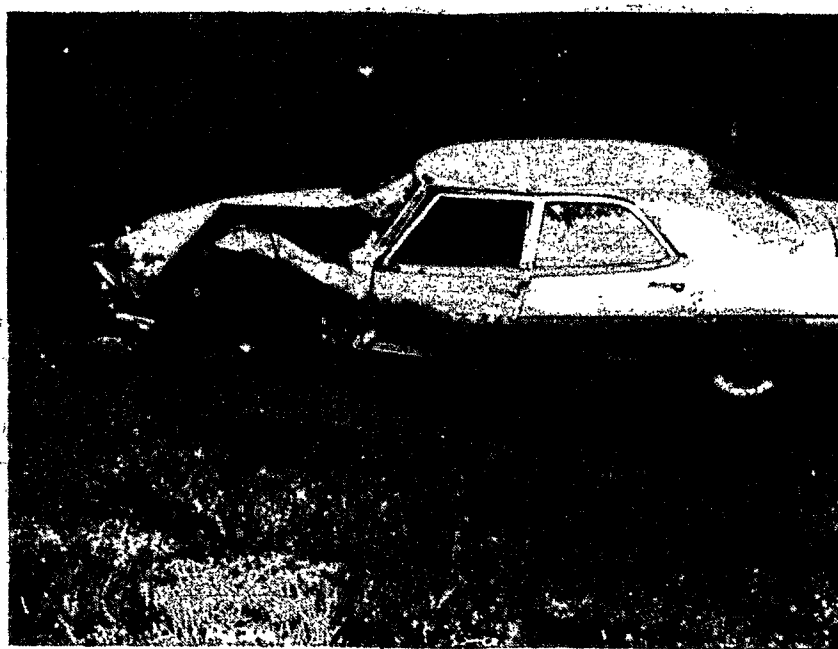

5. Before you sign the contract and mail it:
-Read the contract carefully.
-Make certain you are signing up for the magazines you want at the price you agreed to pay.

-Compare the price to the price you would pay if you subscribed to the magazines on your own.

-Keep a copy of the signed contract for your records.

-Above all, don't buy magazines you don't need or won't read.

State and federal laws require that door-to-door magazine sales contracts must contain a "Buyers Right To Cancel," which gives the buyer three business days to cancel the contract. If the buyer desires to cancel the contract, written notice should be sent by certified mail to the company within that time period.

order to get any assistance, we would have to go through what he called the chain of command," she continued.

She said the chain of command meant going to the principal of the school involved, and being referred to the superintendent of schools if the principal felt he couldn't handle the problem.

"It's a shame we have to go to the school board to get service," she said.

"The board just doesn't want to be dealt with," said Ms. Noonan, pointing out that some long time members of the board had no children in the school system.

Ms. Noonan and members of the PTO took Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett to North Bay Elementary to show him conditions. She said the mayor is not pleased with the situation.

"I'm going to talk to the school board and see what can be done to help the situation," said Mayor Bennett.

"I'm amazed the board purchased a $1,200 sign for the high school that says 'Bay High School' on it and won't fix the leaks at North Bay Elementary," she added.

We've been fighting for two years, trying to get improvements at the school," she said. "We're not about to give up now."

Dear Friend:

It was a great day for Mississippi and the United States Navy on August 5 when the new USS MISSISSIPPI was commissioned in ceremonies at Norfolk, Virginia.

The presence of the President of the United States and his participation made this commissioning even more important and memorable. It was my privilege to speak at the ceremony and to introduce the President.

This fine nuclear-powered guided missile cruiser is the fourth Navy ship to carry our state's name. The first, a sidewheel steam frigate, was commissioned in 1841. After service in the Mexican War she became flagship for Commodore Perry on his historic expedition to Japan in 1852-55.

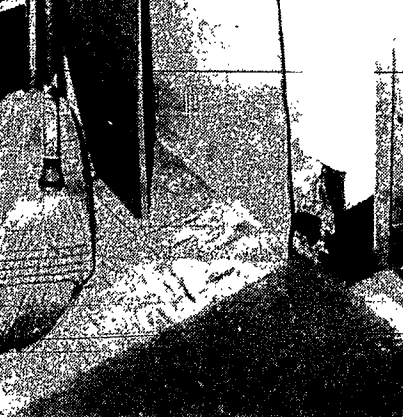

Retired, then reactivated during the Civil War, she saw service in the attack of New Orleans in 1862. In action in 1863, she grounded and was set afire.

The second MISSISSIPPI was commissioned in 1908 and decommissioned in 1914.

The third MISSISSIPPI was commissioned in 1917. During World War II she took part in the capture of the Gilbert, Marshall and Palau Islands; the recapture of the Philippines, where she participated in the battle of Leyte Gulf; and the invasion of Okinawa.

After World War II she became an ordnance test ship, firing guns and guided missiles until 1956. It was on this MISSISSIPPI that President Carter served during his naval career.

The new MISSISSIPPI REPRESENTS America's strength and technological superiority. The 11,000 ton cruiser carries the latest in anti-craft missiles and anti-submarine rockets; also two five-inch guns, long-range sonar, torpedoes, electronic warfare equipment and a helicopter hangar.

The initial nuclear reactor cores contain enough energy for at least ten years of operation without refueling. I hope to authorize more ships that can be built at our Pascagoula Yard. This one could not be handled there. It was the wrong type for those facilities.

The MISSISSIPPI is the Navy's eighth nuclear cruiser and eleventh nuclear-powered surface warship. These ships give the Navy the most capable striking forces we can build.

Every Mississippian takes pride in this fine ship and in the records of the three previous Navy ships that have borne this name.

taneous words spoken by staff members who were present.

Working with Grace had been such a joy, such a rewarding experience - and such fun, they said.

There was a bit of audience participation reminiscence, recalling Grace driving the Book Mobile, mending and binding books, never losing faith in the dream for a County-owned public library, housed in a modern building. Grace, ever soft-spoken and ever cheerful.

What work with the library did Grace most enjoy? Without even a slight hesitation she answered, "I enjoyed every phase of it. The winter programs are rewarding. That's when children come in to do their home work, or to get special help on projects and assignments, and then they come back beaming and tell how well received their work was in the classroom."

Of the summer reading program she said: "The summer reading program this year was the largest we have ever had, and about three-fourths of those who signed up participated throughout the course. More than 2,000 children participated in the activities part of the program."

What activities? "There were parties, games, story hours... that sort of thing." The parents, she said, were most cooperative and helpful and she praised the many volunteers who coached those who wished to become better readers. "Devoted and faithful," she called them.

"I just can't get over this," Grace mused, "It is embarrassing to be praised for doing my job."

Librarian Prima Wusack's reply expressed the sentiments of all who frequent the library and watch Grace at her work when she said: "But, Grace, you have always gone far beyond your line of duty - and have done far more than your job description."

Grace will feel very much at home in the Kiln Library for she is a native of that area, and during her book mobile days made many friends among those who selected reading material from the bus.

She also feels comfortable about the person selected to replace her and said: "June Dearman is really a well qualified person and interested in young patrons of the library. They love her puppet shows.

The Friends of the Library have been wonderfully helpful, according to Grace, who pointed out that the membership in that organization is larger than ever before with a total enrollment of more than 100 members who through various committees are responsible for improvements to the grounds, additions of books and supplying funds for various projects. Judy McCormick is current president of the group.

Friendships formed while serving as a library staff member are warm and lasting. Grace mentioned her high regard for Mildred Means with whom she served as an assistant. Mildred has now carved for herself a happy career as Waveland's librarian.

Working with Alice Prindville was also a high spot in library life for Grace who found Alice efficient, knowledgeable and ever an inspiration. Library records show there has been an ever increasing demand for children's books.

Circulation has escalated (about tripled) in the last two years.

Grace says this is due in part to the 20 percent increase in population in Hancock County during this period, and partly because of the fine cultural families now moving into the vicinity.

About the first thing these newcomers do is to visit the library.

Another reason for the added interest is the fact that the new library has more space for children's activities so more events can be planned.

There are many well-selected records, too. Quite a number made possible through the Bicentennial funding. When the children come for these activities, they become interested in books and discover the joy of reading and sharing.

Grace Rhodes put a lot of love into her work as Children's Librarian - and in turn she takes a lot of love from patrons of the library with her when she goes to Kiln.

The community respects and appreciates her efforts. Plans for a Grace Rhodes Appreciation Day are now in the making!

MISSISSIPPI ECONOMIC COUNCIL - THE STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

It's shaping up as a run to the wire - this 1978 election of a United States Senator in Mississippi. It may even be too close to call.

A close race should prompt several actions from Mississippians. Here are some to think about:

1. Every vote counts. Your first responsibility is to cast your vote.

2. Evaluate the candidates. Listen to their comments, read their materials. Determine where they stand on the issues. Examine their backgrounds. Evaluate their attitudes and philosophies. If possible, talk to them. Ask questions. Determine which candidate best represents your point of view. Determine which candidate can best represent you and your state in the Senate.

3. Express your point of view. Talk to the candidates. Explain what you want in your senator. Talk about the issues. Ask for a commitment from the candidates. Let them know what you think and how you feel on the issues. Let them know what's important to you. If you can't talk to the candidate, talk to his campaign leaders.

4. Get involved in the campaign. Select your candidate and go to work for him. Talk to your neighbors, your business associates, your family. Let them know how you stand and why you stand as you do. Be a campaign volunteer.

5. Associate yourself with other voters with common interests. Talk to the candidates as a group. Let them know the positions your civic group, your trade association, or your professional organization has taken on the issues.

6. Use this election to remind yourself, your children, your employees, your students, other associates of the blessings of liberty and freedom which include the right to the ballot box and the election of a representative government.

Governor Cliff Finch REPORT TO THE PEOPLE

I have a firm belief that the governor and all other state officials should be responsive and accountable to the people who put them in office, and I have tried to live up to that standard throughout my administration.

I believe the people of this state should be able to go straight to their governor with their problems, whether it's a community problem or a personal problem. The problems of the people are the problems of the Governor, no matter how small.

I believe that too many of our people have felt in the past that you had to have influence to take a message or a problem directly to the Governor. Many felt it was necessary to go through some influential person in the state in order to see the Governor. This administration is trying to change that, and I think we have made good progress.

The way we have been able to change this is through "People's Day." This is a day when anyone can see and talk to their Governor without an appointment on any matter he or she chooses. I have members of my staff with me and agency heads who can assist me with these problems. We don't just listen; we do our best to help.

Until recently, I have been holding "People's Day" once a month in my office. Usually this was the last Thursday of every month. Beginning the 19th of August when I went to Batesville, I began taking "People's Day" to the people.

I realize that it is not always possible for the people to come to Jackson, so I am going to the people. August 26 I will be in Natchez. Periodically, I will be traveling to different areas of the state to make it more convenient for the people in each section of our state to visit me.

I hope by doing this, the people will feel closer to me and I can remain close to the people. I invite each and every one of you to visit with me on "People's Day."

Farm storage survey results

Franklin A. Gennin of the Pearl River, Hancock County ASCS Office reports preliminary results of a nation-wide survey by ASCS shows that farmers of the United States have on-farm storage capable of handling nearly 10 billion bushels of grain.

Commercial storage facilities can handle nearly 7 billion bushels. This gives a nation-wide total storage capacity of grains and oilseeds of almost 17 billion bushels.

Mr. Gennin went on to say that in Mississippi, on-farm storage facilities can handle over 50 million bushels. There is commercial storage capacity in Mississippi to handle another 72 million bushels. This gives Mississippi a total storage capacity for grains and oilseeds of about 122 million bushels.

The County executive director said in Pearl River County and Hancock County there are 311,571 bushels of on-farm storage and 50,000 bushels of commercial storage facilities.

Results of the survey of storage facilities as reflected by the figures above show that farmers over the entire country have a tremendous amount of farm storage capacity.

On-farm storage facilities have enabled many farmers to take advantage of price support loans which are available through ASCS.

Many farmers have obtained storage by borrowing money through ASCS at relatively low interest rates.

Many farmers have paid for storage facilities in one or two years with profits gained by being able to hold their grains on the farm after harvest season until favorable markets.

20 PERCENT SET-ASIDE

The 1979 wheat program contains the same 20 percent set-aside requirement as the 1978 program, Franklin A. Gennin, County executive director of the Pearl River-Hancock County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Office, said.

Farmers complying with the program will be eligible for a wheat loan of $2.35 a bushel, and a target price of $3.40 per bushel, both the same as the 1978 program.

Program participants who reduce their 1979 wheat acreage for grain by 15 percent from the 1978 wheat acreage will be eligible for target-price coverage on 100 percent of the 1979 wheat acreage for grain.

The 1978 wheat acreage will be participating farms for underplanted acreage, set-aside, and wheat grazing and hay acreage for payment.

"Unlike the 1978 program, the 1979 program does not provide payment for grazing out or haying of planted acreage. However, producers may graze their 1979 set-aside acreage for a six-month period."

The Wheat Reserve commitment will continue in the 1979 program. This includes the farmer-owned reserve and the special emergency reserve for food aid commitments.

Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland called the program "a stabilizing measure designed to benefit both producers and consumers."

If farmers use the 1979 program as well as they did this year, we believe the farm wheat prices will be maintained. The program is designed to be anti-inflationary.

Without the set-aside in 1979, U.S. wheat stocks would be well above needs. Farm prices would be considerably lower, government payments would be higher, and wheat export earnings would decrease, Bergland said.

The 20 percent set-aside means that for every 100 acres of wheat planted for harvest as grain, 20 acres must be set aside.

Economic Emergency loan service in effect for farmers, ranchers

A new Economic Emergency loan service for farmers and ranchers who have financial problems, caused by credit shortage or cost-price squeeze is now in effect through the U.S. Farmers Home Administration (FmHA).

Robert W. Smith, the agency's supervisor for Hancock County, reports that FmHA is prepared to take applications at the FmHA Hancock County Office in Bay St. Louis.

Economic Emergency loans are authorized under the Agricultural Credit Act of 1978 signed by President Carter August 4. They offer special help to farmers who are hard-pressed by recent shortage of credit from their regular lenders, or by debts accumulated during the recent period of low farm prices.

Smith said the Economic Emergency loan program was enacted by Congress, with Administration support, in recognition of the fact that "economic conditions, as well as weather, are often beyond farmers' control."

FmHA emergency credit has previously been confined to loans for recovery from natural disaster, or the guarantee of private lender's loans to livestock producers affected by economic conditions.

Under the new Economic Emergency program, any established farm operator—individual, partnership, corporation or cooperative—experiencing scarce credit or an overload of debt coming due, may apply for up to $400,000 of credit through FmHA in order to survive in farming and continue their normal level of operation. Economic Emergency loans will not be made to expand a farm operation.

Loans made directly by FmHA will be an interest rate equivalent to the cost of money secured by the government through sale of its securities to the public, plus an administrative ad-on of up to one percent.

The rate initially will be 8 1/2 percent. Guaranteed loans will be made at rates negotiated between borrower and lender, with FmHA providing the lender up to a 90 percent guarantee against loss.

Loans for operating purposes will be made for terms of up to 7 years, with loan consolidations and rescheduling for another 7 years permitted, and 20-year payment authorized under special conditions.

Real estate loans may be made for up to 40 years. Loans for annually-recurring expenses will be repayable annually.

Smith said initial inquiries about Economic Emergency loans can be made either through a commercial agricultural lender or the county FmHA office serving the county where the farm is located. The Act calls for decision by FmHA on individual applications within 30 days.

While introducing the new Economic Emergency farm loan, FmHA will continue all pre-existing services. They include various programs of non-emergency real estate and production loans to family-size farms, terms or which will soon be broadened under the recent Credit Act; emergency loans to farms damaged by natural disaster, and loans or grants for housing, community facilities and business and industry in rural areas.

A real-life daredevil, Carter is the first woman to earn a professional license for motorcycle road racing. Happenings

It is that time of the month again, when all the Seniors get together for our regular Social Hour, and to participate in our game sessions, for the time and place. The Senior Citizens Center in Bay St. Louis, Monday, September 11th, at 1:30 p.m.

All of our participating merchants of Hancock County have been more than generous with their contributions. All of the Seniors who have automobiles, why not form a car pool, and invite a friend or neighbor, who is over 60 or soon will be, so they may join in our recreational programs.

HERE & THERE

All of our Seniors would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Mike Hamm, and the members of the Bay St. Louis "Little Theatre Company" for the invitation to attend the dress rehearsal, of the play "Night of January 16th". A Courtroom drama performed in the Hancock County Courthouse. Everyone enjoyed every moment of the performance.

WAVELAND

Ruby Life, president of the Waveland Senior Citizens Club, reminds all members now that vacation time is over; the Club will hold its first meeting at the Waveland Civic Center on Coleman Avenue, on Monday at 10 a.m.

It is very important that all members attend this meeting, as all the new plans for the fall and spring programs will be discussed. This club is one of the most active in the area, and it's very refreshing to see all the members so enthusiastic. As per usual, entertainment and refreshments will follow the meeting.

PEARLINGTON

Irma Cuevas, President of the Senior Citizens Club of Pearlington, would like all members to come to the game sessions, and make sure to bring a guest if possible, at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, at the Pearlington Community Center. Refreshments of home-made cake and coffee will be served, cold drinks will be available, so, Come One! Come All!

DAY CARE CENTER

This week we would like to once again introduce one of the staff members of the Day Care Center at the Bay St. Louis Center.

Mrs. Rosine Jushaway, the daughter of Police Chief & Mrs. Douglas Williams, she is a native of Bay St. Louis.

MRS. ROSINE JUSHAWAY

having attended and graduated from St. Rose De Lima School. She is a widow with four sons.

Rosine started with the Center as an employee in 1972, as an Outreach worker, and Recreation Overseer. With her outstanding work she was soon named co-ordinator, for the Information and Referral Department, and as many many of the Seniors can attest, she as in all of her endeavors proved to be a great help to all who came in touch with her. In 1977 she once again earned another promotion to the status of Program Specialist for the Day Care Center, which she is carrying out this duty, with her usual adeptness.

Rosine, like so many of the other staff members can be found at her office at the Center from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. every day Monday through Friday helping all of the Seniors to cope better with whatever problem they may have, whether personal or some business matter. They all come away with a solution to the problem and a smile, because of her know-how.

Yes, Rosine Jushaway, is another dedicated staff member at Senior Citizens, but much more important she is a Friend, a Confidant, and can often be found the other two days of the week and the nights after work doing that, "Just something, or someone needed me." She too is paid for her good work, but the extra hours and special touches, can only be charged up to love.

ILLNESS

Ridgely Currey, I am sorry to report is still hospitalized in Gulfport, please remember to send a cheerful note or card to him, as this helps to make those long days pass a little less slowly.

Happy to relate that Thelma Collier, has been released from the hospital and is now recuperating at home. How about picking one of those last of the season beautiful flowers and using it as an occasion for a friendly visit to someone whom you know is shut-in, you both will be much happier for it.

BEREAVEMENT

Since last week's column, the night has again fallen for some of our Senior Friends, but we must all remember as the day is beautiful in all of its sunlight. How beautiful the deep black velvet of night with the sparkling, shimmering stars, God just needed a few more Diamonds to place in His sky Crown.

We, with the family and friends of Lillian Favre, Lillian Tudrey, and Edward Christmas, shall miss them in body only, for in our hearts they will live forever.

Please remember your Center with all of its Programs are supported, and funded by The United Way, Hancock County Board of Supervisors, and the cities of Bay St. Louis, and Waveland.

Rocks rifle Devils for opening victory

By RICH ADAMS

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws opened their 1978 season in Bay St. Louis Friday night with a 16-6 victory over Pearl River Central's Blue Devils.

Rocks runningback Scott Senner was singled out by Head Coach Bill Poole as turning in an outstanding individual performance in "a very good overall team performance."

"We really wanted to win. The Pearl River squad was bigger, and I have to give a lot of credit to the defensive and offensive lines," Coach Poole added.

The Rocks took the opening kickoff downfield 58 yards in 12 plays, scoring on a 25 yard run by Senner only four minutes into the game.

The conversion attempt was broken by a low snap from center, and the Rocks had a 6-0 lead.

Neither squad could move the ball against the two outstanding defensive teams until the Rocks gained control of the ball late in the first quarter.

Following a 20 yard pass from Rocks' quarterback Peter Bernheim to Senner and a 15 yard personal foul against the Blue Devils, Bernheim connected with Jimmy DeSilva for another Stanislaus score from 23 yards out.

Charles Armato put the conversion through the uprights to extend the Rocks' lead to 13-0.

Pearl River, led by quarterback David Quave and the running of Owen Brayson, moved the ball downfield 46 yards in seven plays, where Quave connected with tight end Kendal McClinton from nine yards out to put the Blue Devils on the scoreboard with six minutes remaining in the half.

The point after attempt by Quave was blocked by the Rock-a-Chaw defensive line, making the score 13-6.

Penalties hindered both teams in their efforts to move the ball, and each squad had one touchdown called back on infractions.

In the second half, neither squad posed a scoring threat until about mid-way in the third quarter.

Kim Johnson scooped up a Blue Devil fumble to give the Rocks the ball on the Pearl River 27 yard line.

Two penalties against Pearl River moved the ball up to the four yard line amidst numerous injuries to both teams, and Senner took the ball in for a score.

The run was called back for offensive holding against St. Stanislaus, and another infraction put them back to the Pearl River 19 yard line.

Unable to move the ball against the Blue Devils, Coach

Poole called on Armato in to kick a 21 yard field goal. The kick was good, and the Rocks took a 16-6 victory to the locker room.

Along with Senner, Coach Poole commended Bernheim, Glenn Logan, Danny Handshoe, and David Murtagh for fine individual performances.

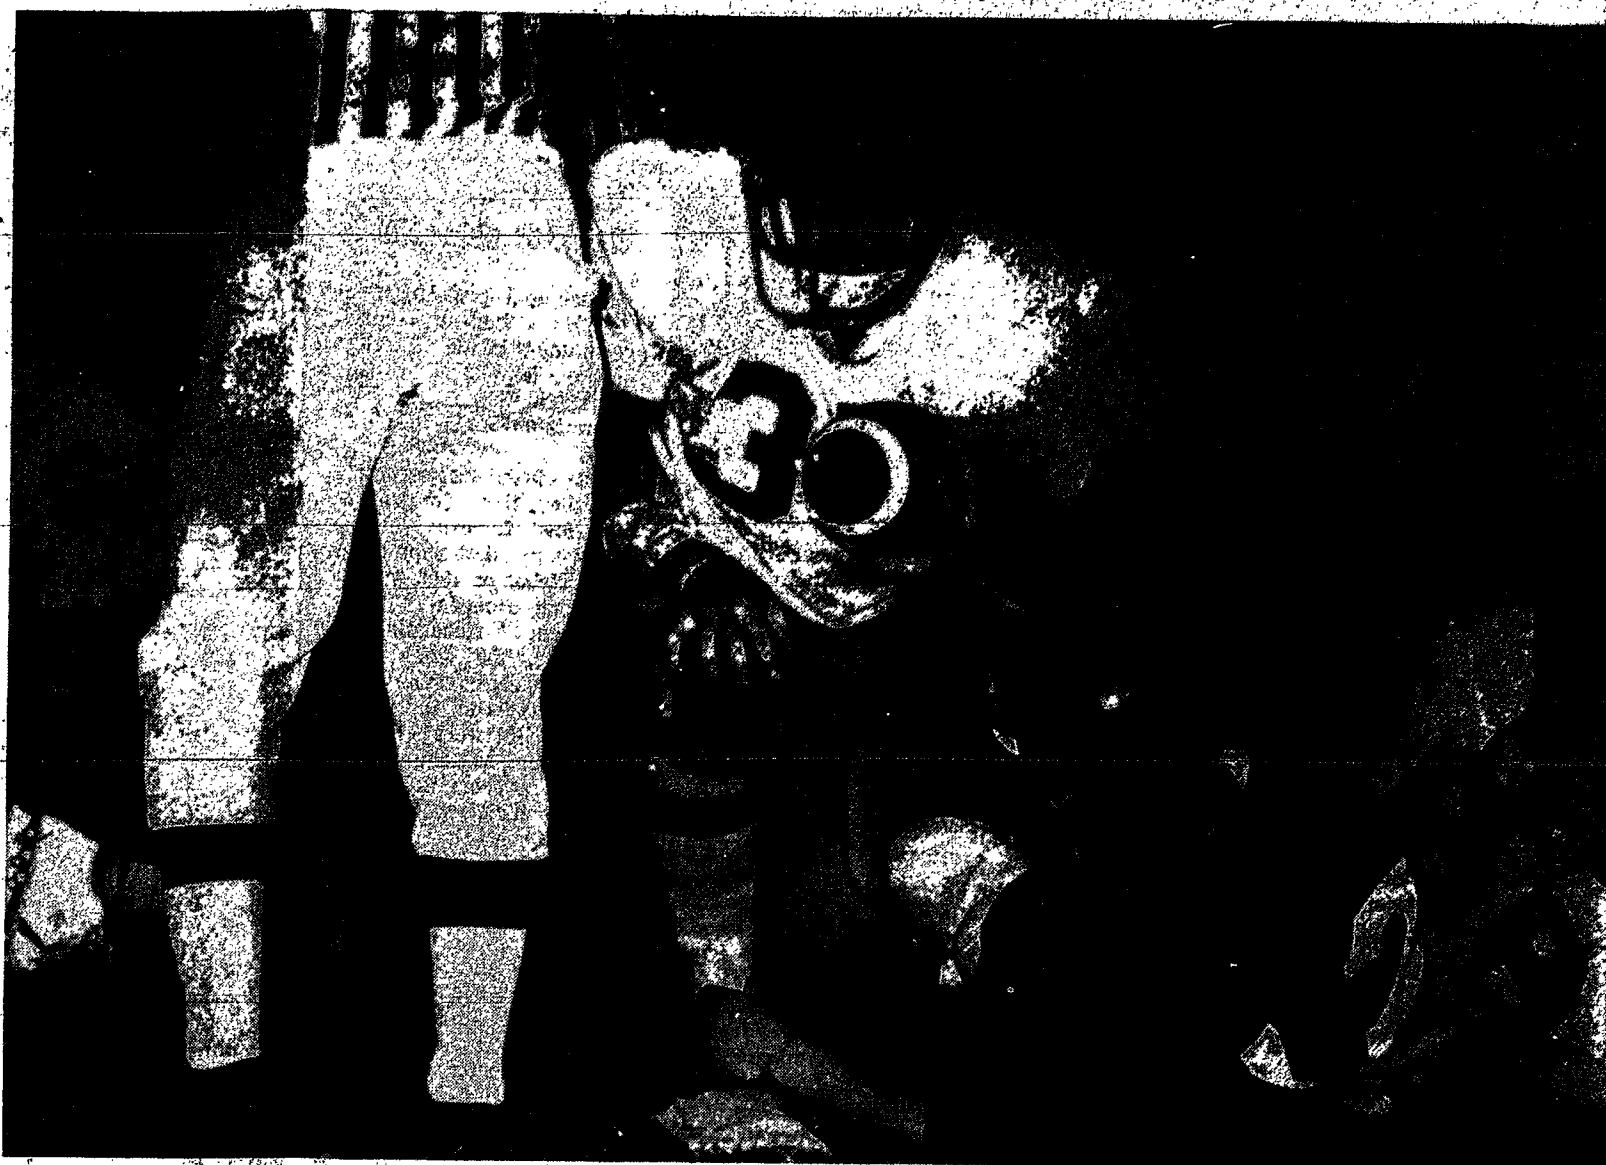

"It was the first game of the season and we made a lot of mistakes," Poole said in referring to the Rock-a-Chaws' seven infractions netting 65 yards.

"I feel we could have made more points if it weren't for the penalties," he added.

The Rocks dominated the game in every aspect except in the air, where Bernheim couldn't seem to connect with his receivers.

The Rocks gained 112 yards on the ground and 42 in the air, rushing led by Senner with 69 yards, Randy Santa Cruz with 62 yards, and DeSilva picking up 50 yards on the ground.

Next week St. Stanislaus hosts St. John at Rock-a-Chaw Stadium on Friday, September 15.

HNC wins third to remain unbeaten

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Hancock North Central racked up their 14th regular scheduled victory in a row Friday defeating Pearl River La. 24-8.

Cocah Irvin Favre's Hawks tallied for two first quarter touchdowns, cranking up their scoring machine earlier than in their two previous victories this season.

"Our defensive team played an outstanding game. We were well pleased with their efforts," commented coach Favre.

Coach Favre added, "Our defensive team has allowed only 28 points in three games which is about a nine point-per-game average, so our defense has been playing real good this season."

Hard running Greg Ladner went in from the two for North Central's first score. Hawk quarterback Vincent Adams pickup up his own fumble and scrambled in ten yards for the second score in the first quarter. The extra-point conversion was muffed after both touchdowns.

Three fumbles by Pearl River aided the Hawks, according to coach Favre.

"Pearl River fumbled twice around their 30 yard line," he said.

Pearl River lost all three of its fumbles to the Hawks.

"We cashed in on all opportunities against Pearl River," said coach Favre.

The Hawks third score came when a Pearl River punt was blocked on the Pearl River 30 yard line and Rene Baum was Greg Ladner's 25 yard recovered for North Central score, coach Favre said.

and ran 12 yards for a touchdown.

In the fourth quarter, Ladner broke through the line for a 25 yard tally for the Hawks. The conversion was the one before was also missed.

Pearl River put eight points on the score board in the final minute of the game as Ronnie Carter scored on a pass and then ran the ball in for a two-point conversion.

The Hawks did have one touchdown, called back this week. Bryan Ladner caught a pass for a score and it was called back on a holding infraction.

Last week against Our Lady of Victories, the Hawks had three touchdowns called back because of infractions.

"We did a fine job compared to last week on penalties," coach Favre allowed.

"We shook two fumbles loose from them, early, and cashed in on both for touchdowns," added coach Favre.

Two phases of the Pearl River game didn't please coach Favre.

"We were disappointed with our point after touchdowns being missed and our offensive blocking was not crisp," he said.

"We were in the best condition of the season. I think we had only one leg cramp for the whole game."

Next Friday the Hawks visit Tiger stadium in Bay St. Louis for their annual rival contest with Bay High.

The Tirs are 1-1 for the season and coach Favre commenting on them said, "Bay High will be a vital record books out the window for this rival contest. The Hawks are preparing for a tough game, as the Tigers always put up a good battle against us," added coach Favre.

Friday's defeat of Pearl River, La. gives the Hawks a 3-0 record for the 1978 season.

Tigers suffer loss in defensive struggle

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Bay High Tigers were defeated by East Central Hornets 13-6 Friday in a defensive struggle.

Coach Billy Rhodes commenting Saturday said, "Our defense played well enough to win. After the game the Hornet coach told me they 'beat the dog out of us in the second half.' We just had trouble moving the ball."

East Central scored in the first quarter when Cedric Wells went in for a three yard score. The point after was made by Ronny Davidson.

The Hornets scored again in the second quarter on a four yard run by Norris Simmons and the extra point was missed.

The Tigers put six points on the board in the fourth quarter when Larry Jackson went in from four yards out.

Coach Rhodes had high praise for outstanding play on defense by Tim Delcuze, Hewitt Parsons, Daniel Edwards, and Ronald Collins.

"Our defense did a good job penetrating into the Hornet backfield," coach Rhodes said.

"We were in tip-top condition for the game, no injuries, and we are in mid-season form as far as condition. Our only problem was that we were a little sluggish in the first half on defense and sluggish the whole game on offense," added coach Rhodes.

"We've gotta get our offense cranked up. Every time we run a play just a little something seems to go wrong, not major, just a little something. We will be working hard this week to correct this problem for our rival game next Friday with Hancock North Central," commented coach Rhodes.

Hancock North Central was the County champion last season and it will be a big game for us," he continued.

"The Hawks want the Tigers and we want them. We expect to have a very good football game, a clean spectator type game. If we can get a little offense rolling, it will be an exciting game," coach Rhodes allowed.

Coach Rhodes said this isn't the same team he had last season. "They are determined to win this season and they are putting everything into every game," he said.

The Bay High Tigers will be the home team in Friday's rival contest at Tiger stadium. Kick-off time is 7:30 p.m. Bay High is 1-1 and North Central 3-0 this season.

PRC wins second; Howard back at helm

Pearl River College's

Wildcats used three quarterbacks and everyone but the water boys Thursday night in racking up a 27-0 shutout against Hinds Eagles.

It was the second Pearl River win within the last five days as the Wildcats opened last Saturday with a 20-14 debut over the Northeast Tigers.

Thursday night, Joey Howard returned to action as quarterback, passing for two fourth down touchdowns.

Howard, the Wildcats' preseason starting quarterback, was in an auto accident the day prior to the start of fall practice.

The Hinds game was the first game action of the year for the Poplarville sophomore.

"I was a little gun shy until the first hit," said Howard, who fired a 24 yard scoring strike to Scott Arban and a 31 yard toss to Andy Thames.

Both scoring plays were on fourth and long situations. David Wyman, sophomore quarterback from Morgan City, La., and Wildcat offensive player from last week, led the PRC team to the initial score.

On the first offensive play by the Eagles, James Knight fumbled around right and the Cats took over at the 23.

Anthony Williams came in with the ball for the Wildcats. Wyman swept around left end for 33 yards and Henry Smith carried the ball in from three yards out. Phillip Lee added the point after.

Howard came in and led the PRC team for another score late in the first quarter.

Midway through the second stanza Charles Armstrong blocked an Eagle punt and Craig Wouliard scooped it up and ran to the Hinds six.

Two plays later with Jody Simon at quarterback, the Cats scored again on a three yard run by Gary Jackson. The conversion was no good as PRC tried for two after a bobbled placement.

Howard's second scoring pass came with 12:03 left in the game as he teamed up with Thames for six points. Lee added the extra point to make the score 27-0.

From the second quarter on, head coach J.C. Arban played every one of his 43 man traveling squad.

"We had a chance to really look at some of our young players here tonight," Arban said, "and we have learned a lot."

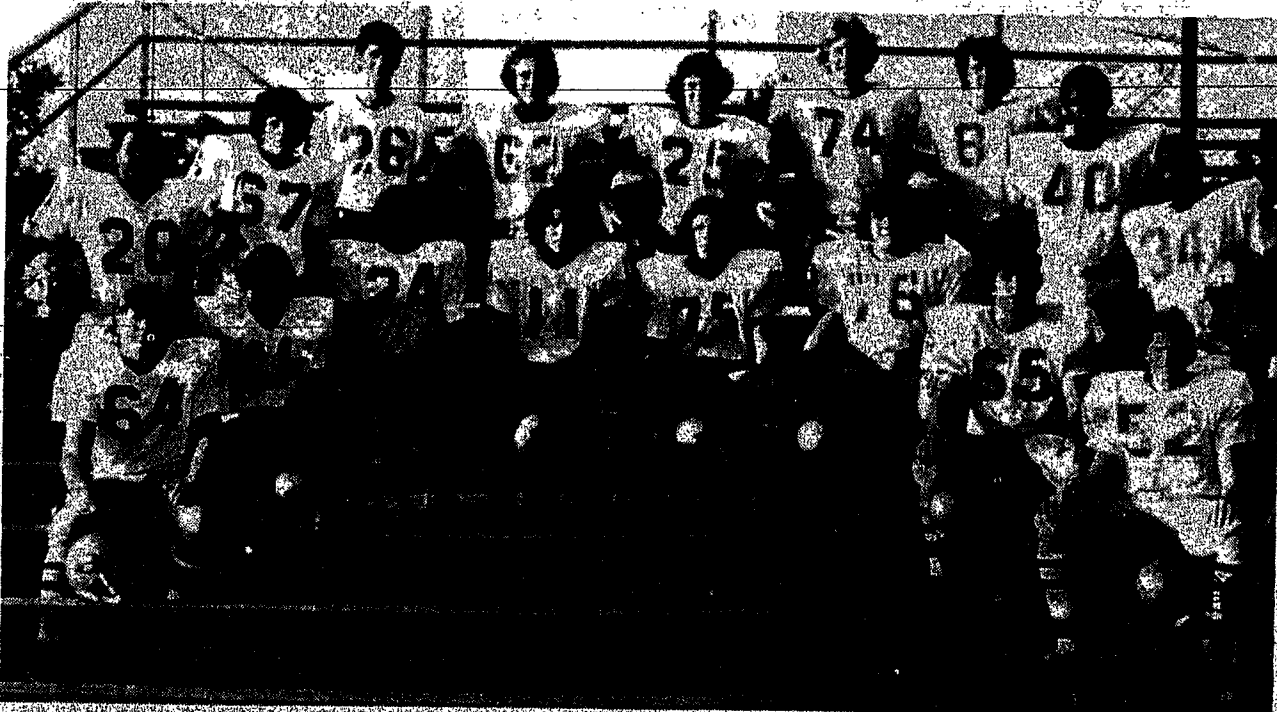

The inexperienced players, however, gave up the ball on several occasions on fumbles and interceptions, but the overall performance was impressive. Arban said.

Rusty Highstreet, form Prentiss Christian, was the game's leading rusher as he picked up 52 yards on nine carries. Smith was next with 46 yards on seven attempts.

In the passing department, Howard was six of ten for 87 yards. Wyman completed two of seven and suffered two interceptions. Smith was two of five for 16 yards and had one pass picked off.

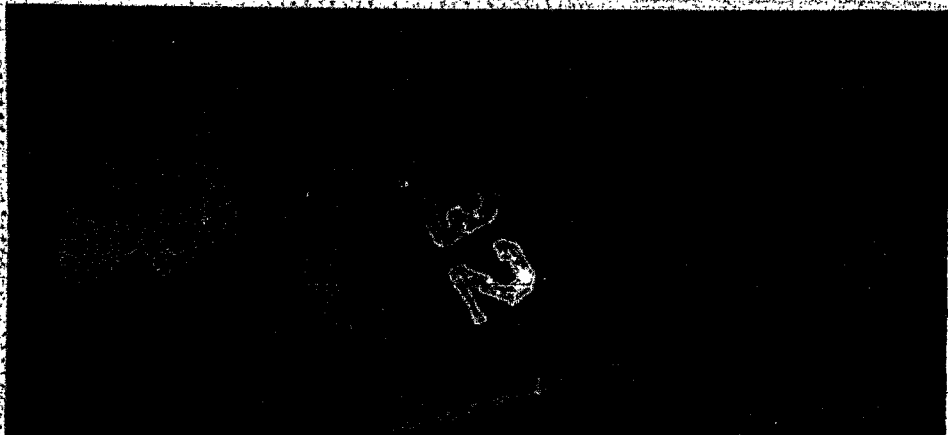

Thames caught three passes for 49 yards and one touchdown. Arban said, "We're really proud of the defense we put at this time," he said. "I just hope we can keep it up."

The PRC squad takes on Holmes Saturday, September 16 at Goodman.

Teal duck season now open

Mississippi opened a special teal duck hunting season yesterday to continue through Sunday, September 17, the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission announced last week.

Blue-winged teal are some of the first migratory waterfowl to pass through Mississippi each September and October on their way to wintering grounds in South America. According to biologists, the small duck would largely go unharvested in most states due to its early migration if it were not for the early hunting season.

"Hunters should know that teal are shallow water ducks and frequent the edges of lakes, ponds and reservoirs and shallow water edges along the Mississippi River. Look for the birds to feed on the seeds of aquatic plants," says Game and Fish Assistant Director Bill Turcotte.

State conservation officials are urging hunters this year to be sure that the birds they shoot are teal and not wood ducks. The season on wood ducks is closed at this time.

"In identifying teal, hunters should look for the extremely fast-flying bird in small, tight flocks. At close range it is a small, dark-brown duck with a light-blue patch on the forward edge of the wing," Turcotte said.

Green-winged teal are also legal ducks during this season. But very few will be taken in the state since most of these birds arrive later during the regular duck season in December.

During the September teal season, hunters must have a valid state hunting license in addition to a federal duck stamp and a Mississippi duck stamp. Shotguns must be plugged to permit no more than three shells. The daily bag limit is four and possession limit is eight. Shooting hours are from sunrise until sunset.

The Ole Pastor Says

THE BIBLE needs re-reading, not re-writing, as obviously some self-designated intellectuals seem to think. But reading the inspired Book is not enough. It being God's inspired, inerrant and eternal Word, the work demands a positive response. That response calls for obedience to its principles.

We are living in a time when it seems that everybody is trying their hand at writing a "New Version," a "better translation," or a "clearer interpretation," etc. Hogwash! One cannot help but wonder if these latter-day "scholars" are not compounding our frustrations more than they are helping us. Teeming millions have confidently lived and died by the historic translations - translations which have stood the test of scholarly research through the centuries.

One late-day version is audaciously titled "The Living Bible." Are the others dead? That's what such a presumptuous title implies.

The paramount need of this and every generation is not new translations and modern versions, but a new and genuine commitment of obedience and respect for the time-honored translations which have blessed us through the centuries past.

No man's life can be what it ought to be without the Bible being the exclusive rule and guide of his faith and conduct. The Bible is God's message to men. It was written in the original languages by some 40 different men selected and inspired by the Holy Spirit over a period of some 16 hundred years. It is a perfect treasure of truth without any admixture of error.

If one knows the Author, he will love and treasure His Book.

To know the Bible is to love it, to love it is to accept it, to accept it means eternal life because it reveals to us God's Son who is our Saviour.

The Bible is a book of information, inspiration and transformation. When days are dark, men need its light. When times are difficult, men need its comfort. When the outlook is discouraging, men need its confidence. When despair is abroad, men need its word of hope.

For America and every nation, it is either "back to the Bible" or "back to the jungle." Men who will not be governed by God will be ruled by tyrants. It is when men forget God that tyrants forget their chains.

The late President Herbert C. Hoover, in my opinion one of the most honorable men ever to occupy the White House, said, "As a nation we are indebted to the Book of books for our national ideals and representative institutions. Their preservation rests in adhering to its principles."

Daniel Webster, a great American statesman, said, "If we abide by the principles taught in the Bible, our country will go on prospering, but if we and our posterity neglect its instructions and authority, no man can tell how suddenly a catastrophe may overwhelm us and bury our glory in obscurity."

The truth could not be spoken more plainly.

"All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: ... " II Tim. 3:16.

-L.S. Walker, DD.

Hurry your showers. Contrary to popular belief, showers save more energy than baths only if they are relatively short. During a long, steamy shower with the faucet giving off eight gallons a minute, it doesn't take long before you have drained off more hot water than you would have used in a 30-gallon bathtub. You can determine how much water your showerhead gives off each minute by timing how long it takes to fill a one- or two-gallon bucket.

PULLING NO PUNCHES - Muhammad Ali, left, pulls no punches in verbal sparring with Dick Cavett during his interview to be broadcast on "The Dick Cavett Show" at 10 p.m., Thursday, September 14, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

YOU AND YOUR PET

By Robert L. Stear, D.V.M.
Manager of Veterinary Services
Norden Laboratories

Parasites can also be transferred from pet to owner. The most common examples are ticks and fleas. Ticks are eight-legged round or oval parasites that resemble seeds. They are slow moving and attach themselves to the skin surface.

Fleas are smaller, fast-moving insects that scurry through the pet's coat when exposed to light. Both these pests feed on the blood of the host animal and may carry serious disease, such as Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

The parasites can be controlled on the pet by flea and tick collars, pesticide dusts and shampoos. The type of control that is most effective will vary. Most pets do well with the pest control collars, used according to directions.

Some dogs and cats spending much time outside or having heavy coats may require shampoos to reach all the parasites in their fur.

One more human health problem related to pets in the house is allergy. An individual human being's chemistry may find a pet's hair or dander an irritating agent and respond accordingly. Wheezing, sneezing, watery eyes and itching skin are examples of allergic reactions.

With the exception of allergy, which is a very individual situation, pets normally offer no major health threat to human beings. If you pets are well-groomed, their living quarters kept clean and family members observe the rules of good hygiene, pets in the family will add to everyone's enjoyment of life.

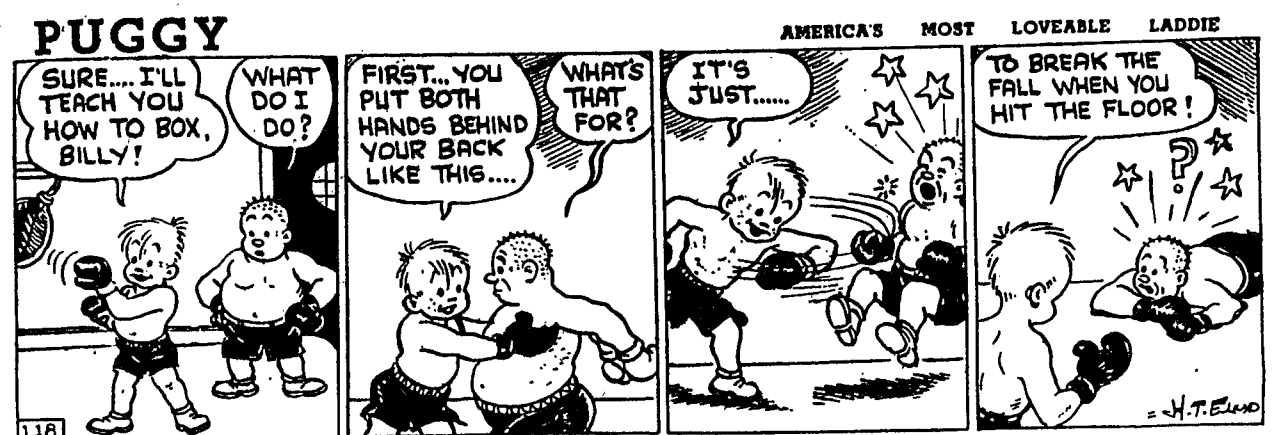

Each pet owner helps to protect the entire community as well as family members when pets are vaccinated against rabies. Some pet owners question the necessity "in this day and age" for a rabies vaccination.

I always remind them that vaccination itself is the reason we don't see this life-threatening disease more often.

A less threatening but more embarrassing condition that can be transferred from pets to humans is ringworm. Caused by a fungus-not a worm-the infection produces circular scaly patches on the pet's skin, with redness and hair loss.

Your veterinarian can provide ointments of shampoos to control the infection, and may clip the pet to remove fungus remaining in the hair. A person whose pet has a confirmed case of ringworm may want to contact a physician for a ringworm examination.

In the meantime, keep children away from the affected animal until healing progresses.
